

Imagine a world where genius is at your fingertips. A world where you can achieve all your goals, hopes and dreams in an instant. A world freed of limits and constraints, even of your own body. A world where anything is possible.

New from Company A is X, a revolutionary product more than just a beverage. It's the key to a new life, a new future, a new you. Unlocking the hidden potential buried in the recesses of the human brain, X has been clinically proven to drastically boost cognitive functions, memory retention and analytic processes. Regular consumption has been shown to permanently increase the consumers IQ by as much as 30%, not only showing clear improvements in work performance and efficiency, but also increased social skills and improved home life, pushing the human mind to its limits with ease as consumers can now begin learning new critical life skills, hobbies and abilities previously thought far out of reach for the average person. Languages, music, technology – anything is possible with X.

Clinical trials began 2 years ago with scientifically monitored test groups with overwhelming success and X is now ready for mass production for the global market, interest expressed from all the corners of the world. But to achieve the world of tomorrow, we need funding today, we need you.

To achieve our first fully produced shipment for commercial sales, we need $500 000 USD for initial production cost and marketing. Though many other third-party companies and manufacturers have expressed significant interest, we at Company A feel that for X to be a success, it also needs to be a product of the people, in order to reduce overhead and lower the initial price as much as possible. A small donation of any amount would help to get us nearer to our goal.

This is our gift to the world, for a better future, a better you. It is ready. It is here. It is now.
